Peruvian Guano.

TO remove any doubts as to the genuineness of the Peruvian Guano handled and sold by me, the following letter was sent to the Inspector at Clemson College:

Hon. H. M. STACKHOUSE, Clemson, S. C. Hon. H. M. STACKHOUSE, Clemson, S. C.

As you are undoubtedly aware, Peruvian Guano is again. Jing Imported into the United States, and as large quantities of this natural Bird Manure is coming to Charleston for distribution among South Carolina farmers, the interest of all the State is awakened, and inquiries are daily being received concerning the genuineness of the article. To protect the larmers and the dealers and the many interests involved in the matter, it is certainly most important that all doubts concerning the analysis, elc., should be set at rest, and we have received enumerous requests that an urgent plea be forwarded to your College, that a representative be sent to Charleston to be present at the time of entering of the cargoes to satisfy himself regarding the nature and source of the material by inspection of the cargo and by interviewing the crew of the vessel and examining its log. Also to satisfy himself that the method of drawing samples from the vessel for the purpose of analysis is just and fair.

We the undersigned therefore respectfully request that you send a representative to Charleston for the above mentioned purpose, on or about the 4th January, at which time the first steamer is expected to arrive from Peru, and about the 7th of February, when the second cargo is due.
